> Testimony released Wednesday night by a House Appropriations subcommittee quoted AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss that "experimental results warrant a sharp intensification and expansion of these efforts."

No details of the reported new approach were made public, but Strauss said he was "greatly encouraged" by the progress made. One major problem has been the development of a power plant light enough to fly.

For work on that and other reactor projects, the AEC asked 134 million dollars - one third more than its current reactor budget. The commission asked also for a 30 per cent increase in its fund for atomic weapons, for a total of 271 million dollars.

Marriage Laws To Be Revised

Although the Michigan Legislature has enacted a new law reducing the waiting period from five days to three days from the time that a marriage license is issued before a marriage may be performed, the new law will not become effective until 90 days after the adjournment of the Legislature, County Clerk William E. Butler said this morning.

The new law thus will not become effective until September. Until that time the five-day waiting period will prevail.

Some applicants for marriage licenses have delayed their applications in the belief that the three-day waiting period is already in effect. The situation has caused some confusion and disappointments, Butler said.

Another change in the statutes affecting marriage licenses also was made by the Legislature in the session recently concluded. This change requires clergymen or magistrates who conduct marriage ceremonies to type or legally print the names of participants in the ceremony and other essential information needed for the official records.

The change was suggested by County Clerk Butler and the act was introduced by Rep. Einar Erlandsen of Escanaba. Too frequently in the past the essential information could not be ascertained from the marriage licenses because of illegible writing.

This change also will become effective 90 days after the adjournment of the Legislature but County Clerk Butler suggests that it is neither necessary nor desirable for clergymen or magistrates to wait until the law becomes effective to fill in the essential information on the marriage licenses in a readable manner.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stopand-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet vay it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

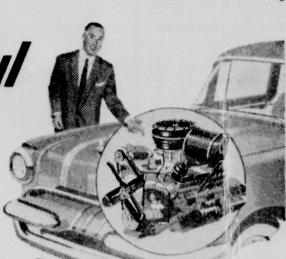

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's-but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself-filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any newcar buyer can readily afford.

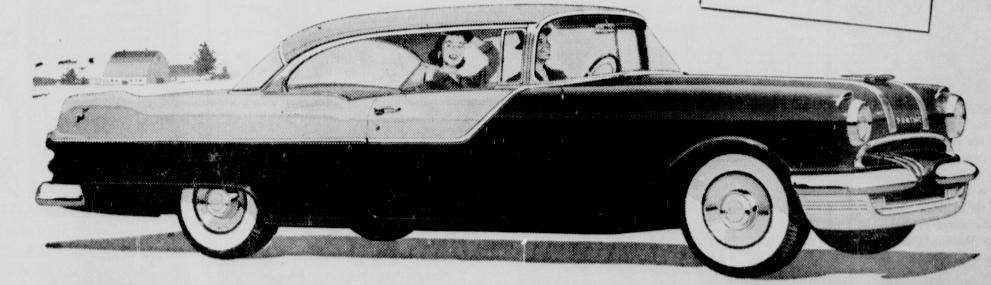

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soor

Wife Tortured By Florida Man

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (4)-James M. Mercer, 33, of Belle Glade wouldn't tell Criminal Court Judge E. G. Newell why he bound his wife Frances and used a sixinch hypodermic needle to inject her with two shots of cattle serum.

L. H. Brannon, assistant county solicitor, Tuesday drew from Mrs. Mercer details of the bizarre case which brought Mercer to court on a charge of aggravated assault.

The syringe, normally used on cattle, was found with a pistol and a knife near a wooded area in the Everglades where the state charged Mercer tortured his wife for five hours a week ago.

Mrs. Mercer testified her husband trussed her up with a rope so that neither her hands nor feet were free to touch the ground and tormented her for five hours despite her screams for help.

RESCUE IN MID-AIR-An exciting rescue operation is re-enacted in the skies over Langley Air Force Base, Va. Two KB-29 tankers, each with an engine gone and in danger of losing their propellers, feared a crash-landing because of loads of jet fuel they were carrying. So a squadron of Thunderstreak jets came to the rescue, drawing fuel from the tankers. After refueling, the jets would dive to sea level, where fuel consumption is highest, burn out their loads, and return for more. The "flying gas stations" landed safely.

Circus Bringing Thrills Saturday

Bud Snyder of Dayton is an odd sort of circus advance man. He wears an orthodox checkered vest with Confederate Army buttons, but he uses a nickname instead of a name that any circus advance man should be anxious to emphasize. His real name is Shelley Snyder and even after confessing it he hastens to add "It's a fam-

Saturday and Sunday, both afternoons and both evenings. This is the second annual Shrine Circus Allocation Board presentation in Escanaba. The income is used by the Shrine Club Report Is Presented to finance its famed crippled children's hospital program.

The Nat Lewis Circus will offer a varied bill that Snyder suggests is just a little less spectacular than the Ringling Circus, but even with a circus discount on his propaganda it shapes up attractively. Democrats See Victory In 1956

Clement of Tennessee predicts a sweeping Democratic victory in 1956 and says "I'm one Democratic governor who is going to support the party's nominees - whoever

He told an estimated 2,340 diners at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising banquet Tuesday night that President Eisenhower "prefers government by delegation of authority" and has shown "aloofness to the people.'

The 35-year-old Tennessee governor told Chicago and Cook County Democratic organization workers and boosters that all local and regional elections since 1952 point to "a landslide victory on a national level for the Democratic party in 1956; and over anybody."

Another speaker in the spotlight as a possible 1956 candidate was Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, who has not said whether he will run jumping to four hearts over three diamonds, had shown a powerful hand with a long heart suit, and North said that he had consequently felt safe at a six-heart contract. South might have had to establish the spade suit by ruff-

North was wrong. For one thing. South had not shown a particularly strong hand inasmuch as his first rebid had been only two hearts. North's real error, however, was in failing to the diamond ace instead of the club ace, and that with hearts trump, the opening lead could be made through the club king. North should have counted that at notrump he could almost certainly rely on six heart tricks, two spades, and at least two diamonds and two clubs if South had the club ace, or four diamonds with club control if South had the diamond ace. In either case the total would be 12 tricks, and the opening lead could not be fatal.

Customers' Corner

Every year about this time, members of high school and college graduating classes all over the country proudly invite friends and relatives to attend their graduation exercises. And—just as proudly—we invite these fine young people to consider A&P careers.

During the 95 years A&P has been part of the American scene we've welcomed generations of June graduates to the ranks of our loyal employees. They've found A&P a good place to work . . . and they've helped to make it a good place to shop. But we're constantly striving to make it still better. If you have any suggestions, or if you are interested in oining our organization, your friendly AAP Manager will be glad to talk with you.

Lumberman To Hunt Steamer On His Land

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (P)-Lumberman A. P. Dacus is planning a search for the hulk of the Sultana, a steamboat that sank near here in the worst boat disaster this nation has ever known. The steamer caught fire on a brisk April night in 1865 and carried 1,457 persons to death in the Mississippi River.

The disaster changed the course of the Mississippi. Silt piling around the hulk forced the river into a new bed. The main stream is now about four miles east of where the Sultana went down.

shows the site of the sinking is on his riverside land. If the search is successful, he plans to restore and pace it on public display.

Divide Income

LANSING-Thirty-eight Michigan counties will divide $60,000 collected in recent Conservation Department land sales. A total of 1,812 acres and 558 platted lots were sold in the public auclic land; the acreage sold is land that for various reasons is unsuitable for public use.

WHATSIT? - Nobody, not even her owners, knows for sure what a Jr., president; Mrs. Hanford cabbit is, but this is one. She looks like a cat. She also looks like a rabbit. The freak, who lives with her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fellows of Urbana, Ill., has a two-and-a-half-inch tail—like a rabbit—and her huge hind paws (one of which has six toes!) look like those of a cottontail. With her rabbit-like legs, the two-year-old freak feline half runs, half hops and isn't much good at escaping dogs or climbing trees. So she spends a lot of time sitting with her small forelegs crossed like a Buddha in a contemplative pose.

Fortunately the oof is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that selling means keeping in tune with the times.

They're sensitive to changes in customer preferences, and re-stock their shelves accordingly.

They're quick to take advantage of manufacturers' newspaper advertising-by featuring the product in their own store displays . . . and by including the brand in their own newspaper ads.

Since they themselves advertise in newspapers, they know that any manufacturer who does the same is really in earnest - and really is out to win the market.

A modern retailer knows that the best advertising is the kind that reaches all his customers.

And he likes the manufacturer who thinks the same.

All business is local ... and so are all newspapers!

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

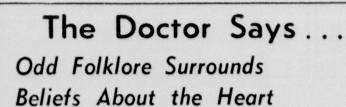

A neat switch was pulled recently by some American officials in Berlin who understood the value of propaganda. Some Red hooligans dumped a pile of garbage over the border line into the Western zone. Next morning they found on their side a barrel of creamy, fresh butter, with a note attached that pointed out, "Each gives what he has."

For months on end, until spotted by Goodman Ace, a busy little man with a roll of music under his arm, scurried in and out of an infrequently used studio of NBC's New York headquarters. Today In Washington

(NEA Washington Correspondent) WASHINGTON-(NEA) -Should truck operators be denied the right to operate a freight-hauling service because the cities they wish to serve are already connected

That is the key question in five cases that have come before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the last two years.

Two of these cases have been settled in favor of the truckers after original ICC recommendations were reversed. The other three cases are still pending on appeal.

In effect, ICC decisions favoring the railroads in these cases would carry out recommendations of President Eisenhower's Cabinet Committee on Transportation. But this would be done before these recommendations have been formally adopted as administration polcyi and before sanction by congressional action.

American Trucking Asociations, Inc. is a federation of 50 state and territorial organizations representing a majority of the 20,000 truck fleet operators in the U.S. They have gone to bat for the truckers n opposition to the railroads.

ATA charges that ICC decisions banning truck operations in these cases would "foster railroad monopoly" and protect the railroads from "legitimate competition by motor carriers."

In the first of these cases, January, 1953, ICC denied the McCullough Transfer Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, the right to transport bulk cement for the Federal Portland Cement Co. from Hamburg, N.Y., to four counties in Pennsylvania. The reason given was that the area was already served by a short-line railway.

American Trucking Association's attorneys filed a petition of intervention, opposing the ICC decision. ATA maintained that if this decision were extended to other simular cases, it might seriously threaten the entire interstate trucking industry.

ICC turned down the petition. ATA lawyers then filed a bill of complaint in U. S. District Court, Cleveland. ICC thereupon reopened its case. In May, 1954, an examiner recommended that McCulough and two other motor carriers be authorized to transport cement in bulk.

This case is considered so important that it is now awaiting hearing by the full Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the meantime, shortly after the exaniner's reversal recommendation in the Mc-Cullough case was made public, ICC issued a new ruling. It said:

"Complaints or protests by associations of carriers and freight forwarders against existing or new rates, charges, fares, rues, regulations or applications for operating rights will not be entertained."

This ruling would serve to deprive independent truck operators of help of trade association lawyers in major cases. ATA, for instance, does not try to repreent individual truckers in rate or certificate cases. But when the entire industry s involved, ATA and other carrier associations intervene. ATA therefore protested the new ICC rule. It was suspended, pending further

This has permitted the trucking asseciations to intervene in four other cases like the McCulugh application. They cover most of the U.S.

In the first of them, last year, Diamond Transportation System of Racine, Wis., was denied authority to transport G. I. Case harvester-thresher combines from the Case plant at Burlington, Ia. Then he ICC motor carrier division reversed the finding. Diamond was allowed to truck out deliveries.

After this came three truck line application denials: In January, 1955, Burns Motor Freight band in an emergency, And that cal conditions from the IBM 701's of Marlington, W. Arsonist Held In Death Of 4 former husband was charged Tuesday with murder of 4 children who died in a burning house. Detective Lt. James R. Beach said 33 - year - old Amos Wilmer Thomas signed a statement saying he set the fire to get even with his former wife Annie Lee Thomas, two of whose children were killed in the blaze Friday

Thomas pleaded innocent at his arraignment, however, and asked for a preliminary hearing. No date

Justice of the Peace Eugene G. Duckworth said three warrants charging murder in the perpetration of arson were filed. The warrants accuse Thomas of the deaths of Dewitt Roundtree, 10, and Linda Joyce Roundtree, 1, children of Mrs. Thomas; Eddie Lee Roundtree, 10, and Freddie Lee Roundtree, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roundtree, grandparents of De witt and Linda Joyce.

Beach said Thomas, a Negro, told authorities he slipped into his former wife's bedroom, poured gasoline on the floor, ignited it and ran out. He later joined the crowd watching the blaze.

Screams of the children awakened Roundtree, 48, who was sleeping on the second floor of the frame house, and he rescued one grandchild, Juanita Roundtree, but flames prevented him from reaching the others. His wife and Mrs. Thomas also escaped.

Cleans Carpets, Rugs, Furniture; Leaves Like New

Blue Lustre, a gentle foam cleaner, works equally well on wall-to-wall carpeting, fine Oriental rugs or upholstery.

That's because Blue Lustre brushes into the fabric without sogging or matting it, and removes the dirt without harsh action. What's more, it doesn't leave behind any oily or gummy substance. The foam disappears like soap bubbles blown into the air. You can clean your furnishings simply, easily and cheaply with Blue Lustre. A half-gallon of concentrate will clean
